

CHANDRA PRESENTS: ASTRONOMY FACT #7

Brown dwarfs weren't discovered until 1995 because they were so faint, but it is now estimated that in the Milky Way there are just as many as normal stars.

The shy ones can really surprise you.

